By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators start battling today over proposals to put a tighter curb on filibusters.

The fight was to have broken out last week at the opening of the new Congress. But all sides agree on a truce until President Kennedy delivered his State of the Union message.

The battle is a three-cornered one.

A bipartisan bloc of liberals will offer a new rule that would permit a majority of the members—51 of the 100 senators—to halt a filibuster 15 days after the filing of a debate-limitation petition.

Heading a middle-ground group, Sens. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., and Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., will propose a rule under which a time limit could be changed on debates by three-fifths of the senators voting.

Tightly organized to resist any change in the present rule requiring a two-thirds majority of senators voting to limit debate are 19 Southern senators under the leadership of Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.

In what may be a promise to use the filibuster itself in the rules fight, Russell says: "We will take advantage of every opportunity to expose the iniquity of gag rule in the Senate."

The issue is ticked for discussion at a morning conference of Republican senators, but they are not expected to take any party stand on it.

Senators calling for a tighter curb on filibusters contend it is necessary for the passage of meaningful civil rights legislation over Southern opposition. Russell called this "just a smoke screen" for efforts to pass big money bills.

Man Killed in Auto Accident

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Leon A. Hardman, 67, of Mountain Home, Ark., was killed here Saturday night in an automobile accident at a street intersection.

Highway Patrolman Billy Crook said the Hardman car struck one stopped at a stop sign. The occupant of the other car was not hurt, Crook said.

Paper Mill at Pine Bluff Is in Ruins

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—The fire at the International Paper Co.'s $75 million mill here was under control early today but still dangerous.

A company spokesman said the fire probably would continue for two more days.

Firefighters kept anxious eyes on the blaze that killed one man and left another missing. Several firemen also were overcome by thick, oily smoke which hovered over the 40-acre mill site and filled nearby buildings.

A. L. Crawford, 57, of Pine Bluff suffocated. Hester L. Hunt, 44, of Jackson, Miss., was missing. Company officials said he was working in the building when smoke was spotted late Saturday afternoon and more than 20 workmen stampeded for the exits.

The lower floor of the warehouse was filled with rolls of newsprint and bundles of paper stock.

"This stuff burns from the inside out, like cotton bales," one fireman said. "As soon as we think we've got it put out, it flares up again."

Firemen from half a dozen south Arkansas cities joined the battle and company officials called on some of the 1,300 employees to help firemen.

Early today company officials expressed thanks for the volunteer air and support it received from the mill's employees.

Cost were set up in office buildings for weary firefighters and the plant cafeteria was turned into a round-the-clock mess hall.

Cause of the fire was not known, but A. F. Perkins of Mobile, manager of manufacturing for International's Southern Kraft Division, said the fire started on the ground floor. He said a welding apparatus might have started it.

Production lines at the plant, which normally operate full time, were shut down when the fire broke out.

Sub-freezing temperatures complicated the fight and stocks of stored paper, some of it plastic-coated, provided fuel for the fire. The maximum temperature in Pine Bluff Sunday was 29 degrees.

New equipment was being installed at the plant by Southern Electric Pipefitting Co., an International subsidiary. Hunt and Crawford were employed by Southern.

Theodore Courtney, 51, of Pine Bluff, a machine operator, was trapped briefly in the burning building, but he broke a window and caught the eye of firefighters on the ground 40 feet below and they came to his aid.

"I was pretty weak," Courtney said, "but I knew if I didn't get up, I was dead."

No damage estimate would be made until the fire was out, officials said.

Joining the dozens of employees who volunteered to fight the fire were several International executives, including mill manager Howard Hinman, who manned a water hose for a time.

John Oswald, assistant manager loaded foamite for firemen. Perkins called it a team effort.

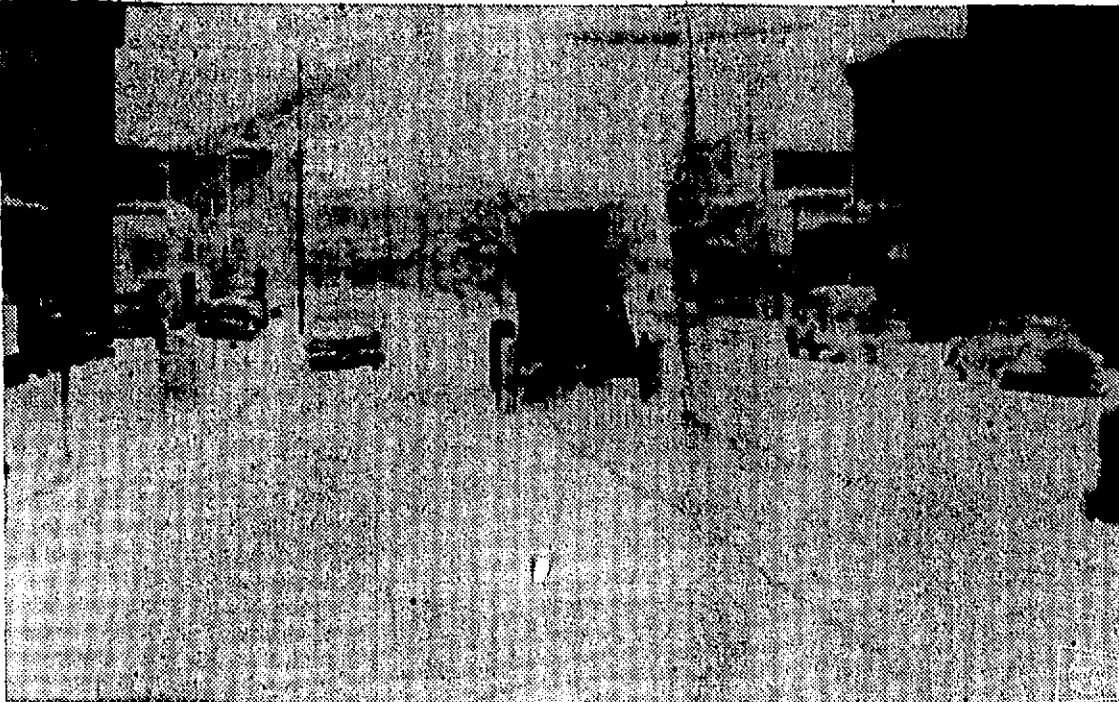

A multi-million dollar modernization program was expected to begin Feb. 1 at International's plant at Camden, but company officials declined to comment early today on the possibility that the fire had changed their plans.

Winter's Icy Blasts Cover the Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter's icy blasts enveloped the major part of the nation today. No immediate break in the severe cold weather was indicated.

The effects of the frigid weather and snow, which swept into the Rockies last weekend and snowballed across most of the country by the weekend, were widespread.

Deaths blamed on the wintry weather—exposure, fires and traffic accidents on ice and snow-covered highways—passed the 40 mark.

Property damage, including heavy loss by a rash of fires, mounted into the millions of dollars.

The unseasonable cold in Southern Texas, southern California and Arizona threatened damage to citrus and vegetable crops. Farmers started their smudge spots.

Wide areas felt the sting of the frigid weather which inconvenienced millions and brought misery to thousands. Stiff winds added to the discomfort. Driving conditions were hazardous in many areas. Travel was halted in some sections.

The Weather Bureau in Chicago said that only a few parts of the nation were not hit by freezing or lower temperatures. Included were areas of the Carolinas southward through southeastern Georgia and most of Florida. Also above freezing, but not much higher than 32 degrees, were areas near the Pacific Coast from Oregon southward through western California.

The below-zero zone extended from the upper Great Lakes through the northern plains into the northern Rockies. Temperatures plunged to nearly 60 below in Montana over the weekend. Scores of cities reported record low readings for mid-January as the arctic air fanned out from the northern Rockies across the mid-continent.

A howling snowstorm off Lake Erie battered sections of western New York. The wind-blown snow pounded Erie County and to a lesser degree, Niagara and Orleans counties to the north.

The storm dumped six inches of snow on Buffalo and up to a foot in rural areas.

Bitter Cold Grips All of Arkansas

Temperatures skidded as low as two degrees above zero in Arkansas this morning as residents awoke to find winter camped firmly on their doorsteps. A brief respite from the bitter cold was forecast for today.

Besides the two at Batesville and Dardanelle, there were readings of four at Fort Smith, six at Fayetteville, Arkadelphia and Ozark, and seven at Little Rock and El Dorado.

The seven at Little Rock was six degrees lower than the old Jan. 14 record of 13, set in 1950. The reading at Little Rock is the official weather record for the state.

Clear to partly cloudy skies were expected today with some respite from the sub-teen temperatures. Highs today were forecast for 25 to 35 with lows tonight expected to drop to 16 to 24.

The Weather Bureau said a warming trend was expected during the next 36 to 48 hours, but warned that by the end of that time a new surge of Arctic air would be spreading over the state. No precipitation was forecast.

$13 Billion Tax Cut, Biggest in History, Asked by Kennedy

Legislature Opens, Finance Is Problem

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Chief Clerk Hal Moody in the House and Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon in the Senate gavelled the 44th Arkansas General Assembly into session at noon today.

Most of today's business in both houses was expected to be restructured to organization.

Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsen was elected temporary speaker of the House to conduct the election of Marion Crank of Little River County as permanent speaker.

Important early items of business were appropriation bills to finance the 60-day session.

Legislators are expected to pass Senate Bill 1 and House Bill 1 as quickly as possible to get money for the rest of the session. The 1962 appropriation was $486,072.

Although several bills probably will get their first, and perhaps second readings today, the session isn't expected to really get rolling until noon Tuesday when Gov. Orval E. Faubus addresses the combined houses.

The legislature is expected to begin putting the speculators in their place this week.

Onlookers have voiced the opinion that this year's session will be a quiet one, compared to previous legislatures under Faubus.

The Teacher Retirement System struggle, which kept Faubus at odds with the Arkansas Education Association last year, apparently has been compromised. Faubus and several legislators have said so.

Though no issues are expected to set off the storm created by the AEA-Faubus fight last year, there will be some minor fireworks over other proposals.

No Conflict Over Truck Weights

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The newly-elected president of the Arkansas Bus and Truck Association said Saturday he believed there would be no conflict between the association and the highway department over truck weight limits.

Curtis C. McClendon of North Little Rock was elected president of the association earlier Saturday.

"We're taking a wait and see attitude," McClendon said. "We are agreeable to a reasonable increase fee increase."

The association has indicated it would like to have an increase in weight limits, but the 1962 Legislature defeated an attempt to increase the limit last year.

Population of Washington Was 40,000

Washington

Washington, which for a time was the emergency capital of Arkansas and the last outpost on the pioneers' path to Texas, is becoming a better tourist attraction all the time. The Pioneer Washington Restoration Foundation was organized in May 1958 and it has done a great deal in restoring Washington's historic sites and reviving interest in them.

On the Fourth of July in 1958 we went to a special celebration at Washington with Tom McRae. We parked on a "grassy field" in the middle of town and a venerable Negro opened the car door and said, "Gentlemen. Welcome to Washington!" That helped transport our spirits, and we went on the guided tours of ante-bellum homes, joined the crowd on the courthouse lawn, and ate home-fried chicken and coconut pie.

Washington has quite a bit more tangible evidence of its past nowadays than it did five years ago. On that grassy place where we parked in 1958 we were told, "This is where the tavern stood."

Today we drive up to a hitching post at the same spot, on the old Military Road. There is a replica of the Traveler's Inn exactly where it stood when Sam Houston, Davy Crockett, James Bowie, Albert Pike, and Stephen Austin lodged there. Plans for fighting Mexico and setting up the Republic of Texas were drawn up in Houston's room in this Inn. Today we find Miss Mamie B. Holt in the tap room and she shows us all around in the reconstructed tavern. As usual in buildings of olden times the kitchen is the most charming room of all.

In 1863 when Little Rock was in danger of falling to the Yankees, the state government of Arkansas was removed to the old Hempstead County Court House, where it remained until 1865. The building was restored in 1929 and for nearly three decades it held as Washington's main tourist attraction. Today Mrs. Roxie Redmond is waiting to tell us how Arkansas was governed here during the dying days of the secession.

The Block-Catts House, completed in 1832, stands today much as it did more than a century ago with its bubbly window panes and its ceiling design of hull and berry stains. Period furniture and curious relics feed our imaginations. Mrs. Charles A. Haynes, executive director of Washington's Foundation, lives there.

Walking over to the replica of the blacksmith shop where James Black made the muredrows Bowie knives, we chat with Mrs. Haynes. She has visions reaching far beyond the present restoration work. Someday she would like to see a drama depicting those lusty days when Washington had 40,000 inhabitants. There is a natural site for an outdoor amphitheater behind the blacksmith shop and beside the tragic Trail of Tears.

It takes a full day to see Washington lingeringly and let one's mind wander properly to the past. Visitors should take time to see other sights such as the Trimble House, the pioneer cemetery, and the largest magnolia tree. Service station men have free maps and advice about highway routes to Washington, which is between Hope and Nashville on state Highway 4.

Challenges Russia to a Path of Peace

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy proposed today the biggest income tax cut in history—a $13.5 billion slash to take effect in three annual steps between now and 1965.

Individual taxpayers eventually would save about $11 billion a year under the top priority program which Kennedy unveiled in his State of the Union Message to Congress. The rest of the benefits would go to corporations.

First-stage rate cuts proposed for 1963 would total $6 billion—roughly equivalent to the biggest tax reductions of the past.

Kennedy said he wants individual tax rates whacked from the present range of 20 to 91 per cent "to a more sensible range of 14 to 65 per cent." He asked Congress to lower the top corporate rate from 52 per cent to the pre-Korea level of 47 per cent.

About one-fourth of the resulting revenue losses would be recouped through tax reforms, Kennedy said.

This lifting of the wraps from the long-awaited tax package was the high spot of the 4,500-word message, broadcast live on all national television and radio networks, in which Kennedy also:

—Implied the United States and its allies are winning the cold war at a time when Sino-Soviet frictions reveal "the seeds of internal disintegration" in the Communist camp.

—Challenged the Soviet Union to make a choice between continued conflict with the West and "the path to peace." The United States is ready for either eventuality, he declared.

—Revealed the bare bones of a legislative program which, apart from taxes, ranges from the proposed creation of a domestic peace corps to enactment of the medicare plan.

Congress arranged a special joint session in the House chamber to hear the President deliver the address.

Kennedy described his tax package as "a fiscally responsible program—the surest and soundest way of achieving in time a balanced budget in a balanced full employment economy."

Although precise details won't be revealed until later this month, it was apparent the tax bill has been carefully tailored in an effort to meet anticipated opposition.

Challenges

from congressional conservatives. Besides calling for gradual rate cuts, to lessen the adverse impact on federal finances, Kennedy advanced two companion proposals that would aim in the same direction:

1. The enactment of tax reforms recouping $3.5 billion of the revenues that would be lost through lower rates. Reforms would begin going into effect next year.

2. A plan to gradually speed quarterly tax payments by large corporations in order to boost revenues by $1.5 billion without changing corporate tax liabilities.

Kennedy also emphasized a desire for haste in congressional consideration of tax legislation.

"Now is the time to act," he said. "We cannot afford to be timid or slow. For this is the most urgent task confronting the Congress in 1963."

The President did not specify any particular date on which he believes the initial rate cut should take effect. He merely said the first reductions should come this year.

Neither did he indicate the first-year impact on the federal budget.

Kennedy's new budget, for the 1964 fiscal year starting July 1, will go to Congress Thursday. It is expected to call for spending approaching $99 billion.

In one of his few references to the budget, the President said it will allow for "needed rises in defense, space and fixed interest charges." But he said it will hold "total expenditures for all other purposes below this year's level."

To do this, Kennedy said, he will call for "the reduction or postponement of many desirable programs," plus payroll and other economies.

These were among other highlights of the message:

—The state of the Union is good; "the recession is behind us."

—The state of the world is improving; "steady progress has been made in building a world of order."

—"But we cannot be satisfied to rest here. This is the side of the hill, not the top. The mere absence of war is not peace. The mere absence of recession is not growth. We have made a beginning—but we have only begun."

—At home, Kennedy wants aid to education; help for unemployed youths; an expanded health program; strengthened guarantees of voting rights; increased competition and decreased regulation in transportation; a local mass transit program; a new farm program; more parks and recreation areas.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy goes before Congress today to unveil a legislative package keyed to tax reduction and reform.

The President, in his State of the Union address, undoubtedly will strike a get-the-country-moving theme in urging favorable Congressional action on his program. Much of it will be controversial, presaging bitter battles in this new session.

The State of the Union report will take on aspects of a state of the world message as the President reviews the international situation and where the United States stands in the cold war with communism.

The Senate and House are meeting in joint session in the House chamber to hear the President. Members of the Supreme Court and the diplomatic corps plan to attend, and the nation will look and listen in on television and radio.

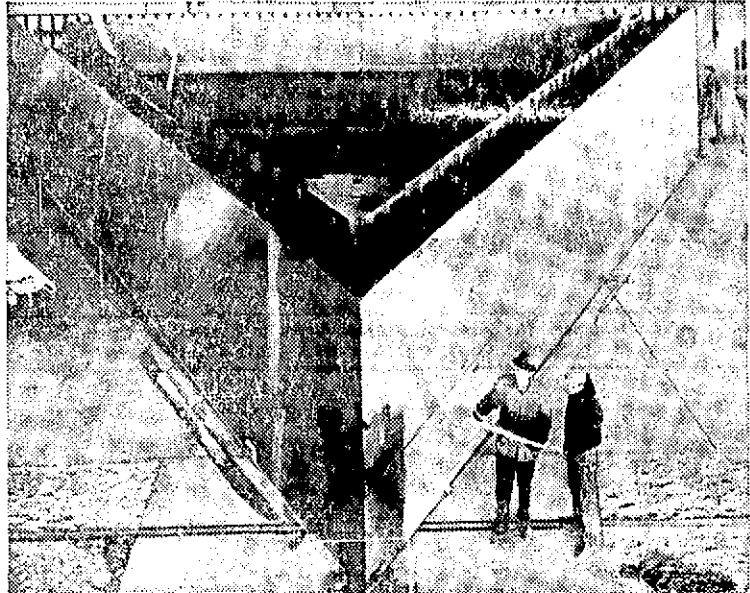

The pocketbook issue of taxes is not the least controversial of Kennedy's domestic proposals. He takes the position that a reduction of several billion dollars is necessary to spur the economy to rise more rapidly.

A heavy tax cut would boom the federal deficit and Congress members will listen with interest to any suggestions he may have on how the revenue loss could be at least partially balanced.

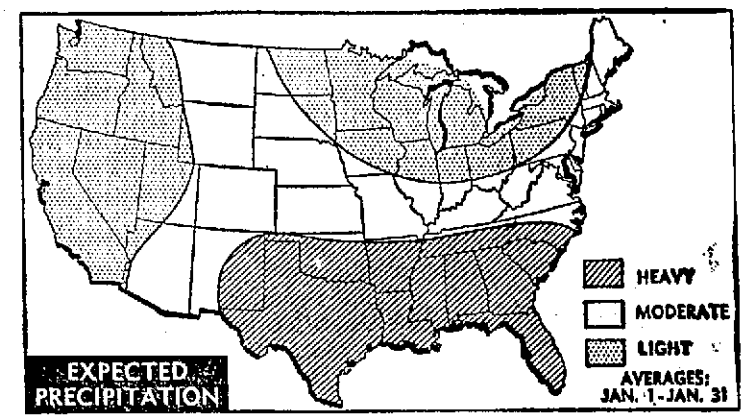

Further tax details will be forthcoming Thursday when Kennedy sends his budget to Capitol Hill and next Monday when his economic message goes up.

While influential members of the Senate and House appropriations committees have their paring knives honed for civilian expenditures there seems to be no disposition to quarrel about an increase in defense outlays.

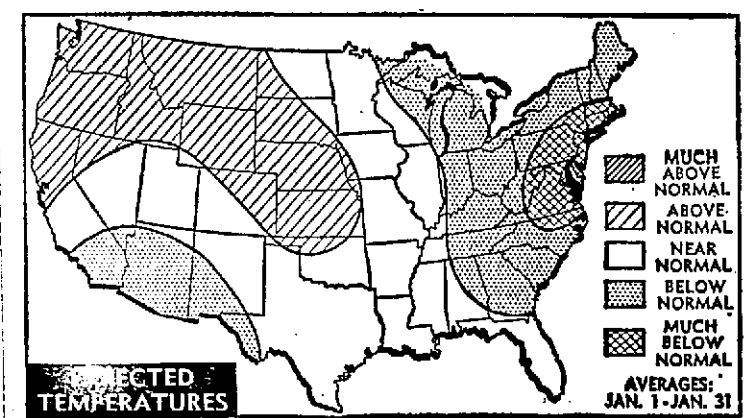

On the domestic side, Kennedy is reported to have given No. 2 priority to an effort to provide

ST. LOUIS ARCH—First 42-ton section of a stainless steel arch that will soar 630 feet above St. Louis, Mo., was completed in Pittsburgh, Pa. It is one of two sections that will form the bases of the towering arch being erected as a monument to America's westward expansion. Model of the St. Louis Arch, right, shows how crane will ride platform up each leg to lift its huge steel sections into place. Tram railway capsule cars, elevators and stairs will be installed in the core of the arch and observation porches at the top will afford a dramatic view of the city and the Mississippi River. Arch is scheduled for completion in the fall of 1964.

Precipitation is expected to be above normal over the southern half of the nation, normal to below elsewhere.

Old Pro Key in AFL Bowl Playoff

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Old pro Frank Tripucka came off the bench Sunday and passed the West team to a 21-14 victory in the second annual American Football League All-Star game—then said it was his final game.

The 35-year-old quarterback relieved Len Dawson of Dallas in the final quarter with the score 14-14. He cranked up the faltering West players and guided them 89 yards in seven plays to the winning touchdown.

The score was set up on a 49-yard toss to Tripucka's Denver Broncos teammate Lionel Taylor. The same Tripucka-Taylor combination worked on a 20-yarder two plays later for the touchdown.

A crowd of more than 27,000 fans at Balboa Stadium watched the West jump off to a 14-0 halftime lead.

West scores came on a 64-yard run by Curtis McCClinton of Dallas and an 11-yard pass play from Dawson to San Diego end Dave Kocourek.

McCClinton, AFL rookie of the year, was also named outstanding back of the game. The 230-pound fullback was the leading rusher with 64 yards.

The sputtering East offense—plagued by five intercepted passes—caught hold late in the third period. Quarterback George Blanda of Houston used only four plays to move the Easterners 68 yards to a score.

Tripucka took the helm at the start of the final period. He threw two incomplete passes during his first series of downs. After an exchange of punts he got another chance.

This time the former Notre Dame star was on target with his next four passes—including the one that won the game.

Tripucka told newsmen it was his final game.

"It would take a fantastic amount of money to get me back next year," he said. The 14-year performer in two United States and one Canadian League said he plans to retire and manage his store in Bloomfield, N.J.

West defensive end Earl Faison of San Diego was named outstanding lineman of the game.

healthcare for the elderly through Social Security financing.

This fall in the last session as did another domestic proposal the President presumably will urge—main—federal aid to education. In addition, he is committed to a mass transportation bill and Assistant Senate Democratic leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota claims Presidential support for a youth conservation corps.

More Honors for Porks' Brabham

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Danny Brabham, fullback at the University of Arkansas, was named Saturday to the 26th annual Chattanooga Times' blocking football team.

The newspaper selects what it considers top blockers from all conferences. No other Arkansas player made the team.

Travelers Get Contracts

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Ray Winder, general manager of the Arkansas Travelers, said Saturday he had mailed out the first batch of contracts to players on the new International League team.

"We're in business," he said.

Four contracts were mailed. He said one was to Mel Roach, an infielder formerly with Atlanta. Little Rock and Atlanta had teams in the now-defunct Southern Association, which folded last year.

Winder said the other contracts were mailed to players recently transferred from the roster of the Philadelphia Phillies, the Travelers' parent team.

The Travelers were officially accepted into the IL this week, along with Indianapolis, in an expansion to 10 teams.

The Arkansas team will play a 152-game schedule in the Southern division of the circuit along with Atlanta, Jacksonville, Columbus and Indianapolis.

John Brown Wins Over Missourians

PARKVILLE, Mo. (AP)—A seahorse carried John Brown University of Siloam Springs, Ark., to a 72-56 victory over Park College here Saturday night.

Marty Kugel hit 20 points for John Brown U. and teammate Dick Wilson added 13. The score was tied 37-37 at the half.

Death Sentence Is Affirmed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court affirmed today the death sentence given Charles Franklin Fields, 35, for rape committed during a 90-minute escape from Tucker State Prison Farm last Jan. 15.

The court said it had examined the entire record in the case and found no grounds for reversal.

Fields also was charged in the fatal shooting of C. A. Mencer, but he was not brought to trial on that count.

Fields, a trusty, walked away from the farm with a pistol in his possession. He was captured about 80 minutes later after he wrecked a truck stolen at the farm home of the rape victim.

Fields was given the gun by prison officials to protect a herd of swine from dogs and wild animals.

Fields had been sentenced to a life term for raping a 23-year-old woman in Yellville when he was 15. He had been a model prisoner for 15 years.

Train Derails Near Dumas

DUMAS, Ark. (AP)—Thirty-nine cars of a Missouri Pacific freight train derailed five miles north of here today, stacking cars like toys and tipping up 100 feet of track.

No one was injured.

The cars were at the rear of a 107-car train bound from Little Rock to Alexandria, La. The rest of the train continued southward after a delay.

Five tank cars were piled up in the middle of the derailed section. There was no fire and Ralph Eilers' parent team.

The Travelers were officially accepted into the IL this week, along with Indianapolis, in an expansion to 10 teams.

The Arkansas team will play a 152-game schedule in the Southern division of the circuit along with Atlanta, Jacksonville, Columbus and Indianapolis.

SOCIAL SECURITY

"QUESTIONS & ANSWERS ABOUT SOCIAL SECURITY"

QUESTION: I will be 62 in February 1963, and I have decided to retire at 62 and take a reduced Social Security benefit. When should I apply? Do I need a birth certificate?

ANSWER: An application for Social Security retirement benefits can be filed no earlier than 3 months before retirement. It is best to apply a couple of months early, if possible, because it takes an average of 1 1/2 to 2 months to process the average retirement claim. Give us time to give you the best possible service by applying early if you can.

If you already have a birth certificate, bring it with you when you apply. If you don't already have a birth certificate, please don't apply for one now. We recognize the fact that when you were born birth certificates were a rarity, so I repeat—we do not require a birth certificate.

We do require some proof of your age. This may be any old record or document—the older the better! This record should show your age at the time it was issued (an old marriage record or insurance policy or military service record or U.S. Census Record). The record may be an old family bible record or an original record.

One word of caution—the Social Security representative must see the document you submit, so don't go to the expense of making a photocopy of the record to submit.

If you don't have any of the things mentioned here, discuss your problem with your Social Security representative; he has other suggestions to help you.

Johnson, general manager of Missouri Pacific at Little Rock, said that as far as he knew the tank cars were empty.

The Missouri Pacific dispatcher in Little Rock said it would take 24 hours to clear the wreckage, repair the tracks and get trains moving again.

DR. PRUITT'S BODY
By Kenneth O. Hay

THE STORY: Matt Bacon, a private investigator, retained to learn what happened to Dr. Pruitt, a missing scientist, is now interviewing Dr. Stroup, a close associate of Pruitt's.

VII

Dr. Stroup, a tall, dynamic man in his late forties, was coatless and his sleeves were rolled up to his elbows. The pocket of his white shirt was full of pencils and soiled with graphite from pulling them out. His hair was sandy and uncombed and he wore large horn-rimmed glasses the same color as his hair.

"I have just a few questions to ask about Dr. Pruitt, Doctor," Matt began.

"I'm Wes, or Wesley to my friends. You're Matt Bacon? Are you a Private Eye or a Private Detective?"

"Neither," said Matt. "I'm a private investigator."

"Private Snoop?" Stroup laughed, then went on. "I can't tell you much about Chet. I've been over the ground, with the police. I don't know why he'd disappear. I saw him only in the morning, of course. I was in the Bevatron Lab all afternoon."

"What sort of man was he?"

Stroup pondered. "Hard to know well. I suppose he's the type that you can like or dislike but not do either one very intensely. He had a brilliant mind, but underneath it all he was as human as anyone else. But that's not bad."

"Corbin Bradley retained me to find out what happened to Pruitt. Wes. How would a scientist tackle the problem?"

Stroup thrust his hands in his pockets. "Well, first he'd speculate, which some people call philosophy. Then he'd develop a hypothesis. Next he'd gather enough facts to formulate a theory. Finally he'd test his theory to see if his facts were straight, and he'd come up with a doctrine called Why Chet Pruitt Got Lost."

"You have a hypothesis?"

"More. I have a theory, based on why people behave as they do."

Matt wondered if he'd have to listen to another fantasy such as Beth Baylor's but he said: "I'd like to hear it, Wes."

"My hypothesis, Mr. Private Snoop, is that man — called a thinking creature by people who should know better — is subject to a set of laws as clearly as Newton's. We call these laws social pressures and they fit every member of the human race into a wave pattern of crests and depressions which determine his character."

"The crests are boiling points and the depressions freezing points, which isn't analogous, only a convenient way to distinguish them. The upper limit, the boiling point, is individual ability, the freezing level is the point beyond at which a man loses his pride and morals. To go beyond either limit requires force and results in depravity."

"In other words, to force a man to go beyond his ability is as dangerous as destroying his standards."

"Can it be that you're the intellectual type? At least you can understand that to force a man to go beyond his normal way of life requires force. He will resist this. Sometimes he will endeavor to escape by flight, or by suicide. The limits are relative. In some men the peak is low or distorted, such as a con-man who takes pride in his skill, or a Casanova who brags of his seductions. Incidentally, Miss Baylor is not depraved. Just unlabeled like a wild mare, running loose and enjoying freedom. She deserves it after years of self-discipline winning her doctorate."

"At the other end of the scale are geniuses, the Isaac Newtons, the William Harveys, the Babe Ruths. Any man who does his best, and is a champion in his class. He has self-confidence, he has morals and ethics."

"But last Thursday some outside force—and I'm as much in the dark about this as anyone—forced Chester Pruitt beyond his limits. He was faced with a situation—social pressures — beyond his ability. The force may have been physical, or it may have been mental. But Chet reacted just as any other man would react. He ran away from it."

Matt was pretending to listen to Dr. Stroup's profundities. He had heard the words, but he was making very little sense out of them. He felt that the man was using his knowledge to create a smoke screen.

"How would we develop your theory into a doctrine, Wes?"

"We'd have to learn Chet's limits, and find out what forced him to go beyond them."

"Supposing we found Pruitt's body?"

Stroup laughed. "Well in that case, I've been wasting my breath." He got up and went out the door.

Matt turned and went out the other door. A security cop stood in the hallway. "Is there a back door to this place?" he asked.

The cops nodded. "Yes, but it's locked."

"Dr. Stroup went out that way."

"He's got a key."

Vows Exchanged
In an afternoon ceremony at the Methodist Church of Grady, N. M., on December 22, 1962, Miss Mary Carolyn Stantfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stantfield of Grady, became the bride of John Rae Luck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rae Luck of Grady, formerly of Hope, Ark.

The bride's uncle, the Rev. Clarence Stantfield of Gallup, assisted by the Rev. L. L. Nichol of Peralta, performed the double-ring ceremony. Miss Kathy Fraser, organist, played a program of wedding music. Mrs. H. B. Prothro of Clovis played piano accompaniment for Dale Houston of Andrews, Tex., cousin of the bride, who sang "The Wedding Prayer," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of French peau d'ange and Chantilly lace. It was princess style with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves ending in rly points over the hands. The lace bodice was embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The skirt, paneled with lace, flared at the hemline and extended into a chapel train. Her bouffant veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and stephanotis.

Vows were exchanged before an altar lighted by white tapers in spiral candleabra. Greenery and white flowers, including gladiolus, chrysanthemums, and pom pom mums, decorated the chancel.

Mrs. Bill Shiple of Albuquerque, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Judy Baldwin of Clovis and Miss Ann Osborne of Tucuman were the bridesmaids. All wore identical dresses of red velvet trimmed with red satin. Their headresses of red satin and tulle were fastened by single pearls at center back. They carried red carnations enhanced with white maine snowballs and white velvet. Miss Jana Stantfield of Albuquerque, the bride's cousin, was flower girl.

The bridegroom's father was his best man. Danny McCasland of Grady and Bill Echols of Clovis were ushers. Groomsmen were Hollis A. Luck and Bill Shiple.

Max Best of Forrest was ring bearer.

For a reception after the wedding, red carnations, white pom poms, and silver foilage centered the refreshment table. Miss Darlene Hutchins served the tiered wedding cake, and Miss Joyce Furry poured the punch.

When the couple left for a wedding trip, the bride wore a white wool suit with a white mink collar and gold accessories.

The newlyweds are now at home in Portales, where they are attending Eastern New Mexico University. The bride, who is a junior majoring in elementary education, is a member of a professional music fraternity, Euterpeans. The bridegroom is a junior majoring in industrial arts and is vice president of the Fraternity of Industrial Arts Majors. He is employed in the university technological department.

Cora Mae Auxiliary Has Meeting

The president, Mrs. Corine Hill presided over the short business session and Mrs. Lewis Smith had the open prayer. After the business, Neva McClellan, program chairman, presented the inspiring program, "The Three Dees from the Bible," taken from 1 Peter 3, 2.

Taking part in the program were Easter Beard, Sue Auterberry, and Mrs. Hawkins. Special

I began to be jealous of everything my husband did and — our home became a hell. Finally, I reached the extreme of wishing to kill him. That day he left our home never to return.

We are now separated 12 years. He has always been a good father to our children, never forgetting or neglecting them in a material or spiritual way. I in turn have died for him; yet I am nothing to him but a stranger. At times he begged that I grant him a divorce but I consistently refused. Three years ago he fell in love with a young girl. I am the only obstacle to their happiness.

As I think back and see the great harm that I have done in the name of happiness for my children, I bow my head. I think of all the good and noble things which I failed to appreciate in my husband. If he greets me at all, it is only so as not to hurt his children, but he does it with the utmost indifference.

Now, after these many years, I would like to give him that happiness which I withheld from him so long and which he deserved. For this reason I have decided to grant him a divorce so that he may find the trust and love from this young girl which he never got from me.

I wanted you to publish my sad story in your column as an example to other women who, like myself, let themselves be consumed by jealousy. If there is still time to mend their ways, warn them to make haste so that their homes may be kept intact.

For those whom it is already too late, may they face their fault and give their husbands that happiness which the poor men deserve, never having committed any other fault than lacking a real understanding of their wives.

My conscience tells me I am doing the right thing but I would like to have your opinion on the matter. I hope you approve of my decision for I would like to begin the new year with a noble deed, which I hope God will bless me for in the best way He could — to see my children happy in their father's happiness. — Sandra

Dear Sandra: If you are convinced that the situation is hopeless, then divorce. In your favor is the long chance that by letting go, you may win your husband back. He could well be deeply touched by the change in you. I am.

For a woman who has once been so jealous, your present thinking indicates maturity of soul and heart. The tragedy is that you did not experience this transformation earlier.

Memo to Teen-in-Love: Stop being so serious. No wonder you've scared off your boy friend. Don't try to put words of love in his mouth. Let him speak for himself. Play it cool if you want to "hold on to this extra-special guy." Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet

Legislature

Among the issues which are expected to draw lengthy debate are a voter registration system, made necessary by an anti-poll tax amendment to the U.S. Constitution. Thus far only two states have ratified the amendment, but it is expected to get cursory passage.

Other issues will involve state offices — notably the Land Commissioner's position and the Game and Fish Commission.

During the recent Legislative Council meetings, several legislators voiced a desire to abolish the Land Commission. The Council also put pressure on the Game and Fish Commission during budget hearings.

The legislature does not control the G&F Commission, but there have been indications that a move will be made this year to put it back under the supervision of the general assembly.

Arkansas State 4-H Alumni Cited By Extension Service

Because of their effective community leadership, public service and aid to 4-H Club work, four Arkansas residents have been awarded special honors.

State 4-H Club alumni recognition awards for 1962 have been granted to Mrs. J. Fred Jones of North Little Rock; Mrs. D. J. Matthews of Alexander; Travis P. Blue of Paragould; and Orville Siegenthaler of Fort Smith, according to the Cooperative Extension Service.

Mrs. Jones heads the home economics department of Ridge Road Junior High School. She has served for 40 years as a member and leader in 4-H activities.

Mrs. Matthews likewise has had a wide variety of service in 4-H work. She also distinguished herself in being the first woman ever to serve on the Sherwood City Council.

Blue, a member of the Farm Home Administration for 21 years, has worked to establish a children's home in Paragould.

Siegenthaler has spent years of community effort to develop 4-H youth interest in grooming and caring for animals for show purposes.

Each of the Arkansas 4-H Club alumni recognition winners in 1962 was given a bur-nished copper plaque.

The alumni program is sponsored for the 10th consecutive year by the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., Chemicals Division-Agricultural.

It is conducted nationally by the Cooperative Extension Service and the National 4-H Service Committee.

Georgia Tech Runs Streak to 11 Games

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Georgia Tech basketball coach John Hyder survives the season without developing an acute case of the screaming meemies, he should get some sort of an award—maybe check his physicians to make sure he still has a heart.

Hyder's Yellow Jackets have run up a spotless 11-0 record, the only perfect mark in the Southeastern Conference. But Alfred Hitchcock wouldn't dare write some of the scripts.

Georgia Tech, No. 7 team in the current Associated Press poll, has won seven of its 11 games by a grand total of 12 points. The Yellow Jackets got past Kentucky, Furman and VPI by one point each, Florida, Georgia and Mississippi by 2, and Alabama by 3. Their latest chiller was a 73-71 decision over Mississippi in overtime Saturday night.

Bill Eidson wrapped that one up with less than a minute left in the overtime.

Tonight, Georgia Tech meets a real toughie in Mississippi State, the defending co-champion, at Starkville, Miss. The Yellow Jackets, with a 2-0 conference record, still trail Alabama, 3-0, which as a fairly easy assignment in Florida tonight.

The Big Eight, Big Ten and Atlantic Coast Conference all have important games tonight.

In the Big Eight, Kansas State is at Colorado, which has been going through the league as though it is playing a bunch of midgets. The Buffs, shooting for their second straight championship, are 3-0 after their 92-69 victory over Missouri Saturday night.

In the Big Ten, Illinois, No. 5, in the AP poll and beaten only once all season, will try to run its conference record to 4-0 against Northwestern.

The Illini, clobbered Purdue 106-86 Saturday night, while Ohio State, No. 4 in the poll and Illinois' No. 1 threat for the title, had to come from behind to defeat Michigan 68-66 behind Gary Bradd's 33 points.

Wake Forest entertains Virginia in an Atlantic Coast Conference

40 Important Days, Says Broyles

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Football Coach Frank Broyles of the University of Arkansas said Saturday "the next 40 days are the most important that we'll face in the nine months out of the season."

He was talking about the two critical matters that confront his football program: mid - semester exams and recruiting.

"We've got to do well in our recruiting," he said, "and we've got to prepare our football players mentally so that they can get the maximum out of their studies and the best grades possible."

The recruiting signing date is Feb. 12.

"The early licks are the most important," Broyles said. "Going to a bowl game delays you a little there, but our coaches will be trying to make up for lost time."

game that's important to the Deacons. If they score their expected victory over Virginia, which has won only three games all season, they'll pull into a tie for the league lead with Duke, each with a 6-0 mark.

The Blue Devils moved ahead of Wake Forest with a 78-67 victory over Clemson Saturday night. Wake Forest clipped Virginia Tech of the Southern Conference 76-63.

Cincinnati, the nation's No. 1 team, ran its season record to 13-0 Saturday night by polishing off Tulsa 67-57 in a Missouri Valley Conference game. The Bear-cats play tough Bradley Thursday.

Arizona State, No. 3, behind Cincinnati and Loyola of Chicago, rushed past Utah 80-65 and stayed atop the Western Athletic Conference with a spotless record. The high scoring Sun Devils have lost only once all season while running up 14 victories.

Wichita, which hopes to give Cincinnati a run for the Missouri Valley title, defeated Bradley 70-60 and West Virginia firmed up its stranglehold on the Southern Conference race with a 100-97 victory over surprisingly rough George Washington. Texas pulled in front in the Southwest Conference by trouncing Texas Tech, 78-58.

Penn whipped into the Ivy League lead, vanquishing defending champion Yale, 60-50. Washington turned the tables on Southern California 62-61 to become a

Arkansas Hall of Fame Is 'Lined Up'

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jack Pickens, president of the Arkansas Hall of Fame, Inc., announced Saturday the "lineups" for the fifth annual induction banquet in Little Rock next Thursday night.

The inductees are Russell V. May, Clyde L. Scott and George R. Cole, all of football fame at the University of Arkansas, and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, the legendary Professional Golfers' Association tourist.

May will be presented by Bob Cheyne, director of sports publicity at the U of A; Scott will be presented by Adrian Burk, who played with him for the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League; Cole will be presented by Glen Rose, now U of A basketball coach; and Harrison will be presented by Ted Darragh, past president of the Arkansas State Golf Association.

Harrison is one of the long-time greats still on the pro circuit. He has won well over 30 tournaments in his career. He got his golfing start as a caddy at Little Rock, where Darragh first met him.

Bobcats Down Camden in District Play

By CARTER HARDAGE

Saturday at Camden, Hope managed to take two games. The Bobkittens downed Camden 32-23, and the Bobcats snared the Panthers 69-53 for a big Conference victory.

The Bobkittens had a slow start in their 32-23 victory, and trailed 6-3 at the First Quarter. But they were able to tie it up at 12 all at the Half. They then proceeded to go ahead 20-19 at the Third Quarter, and finished in the lead 32-23 after a big final quarter. Ronnie Ingram was again high with 11 points. Also on the scoreboard for Hope were: Watkins 10, Ramsey 6, McGill 4, and Parris 1. The Bobkittens were able to score on 86% of their free throws.

In the second game, the Bobcats took Camden 69-53 to make their Conference record 2-1. The Bobcats were ready for this one, and outscored the Panthers every quarter. Hope led 19-13 at the First Quarter and 32-21 at the Half. The gap widened 49-34 at the Quarter and Camden was just outpowered 69-53. Dan Jones was again top with a big 21 points. Following were: Murphy 16, Purle 9, Porterfield 8, Foster 6, McLarty 5, and Mayfield 4.

Next week is a full schedule with games on four nights. Tuesday, the Junior and Senior Boys play Prescott here. Thursday, the Senior Girls travel to Texarkana and on Friday the Junior and Senior Girls and "B" Boys play Guernsey here. Rounding up things on Saturday, the Junior and Senior Boys battle Magnolia in a Conference game there.

Lakers Can Lose for a Quarter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Lakers can be beaten—for one quarter, or two, or three. But it is becoming increasingly tough to handle the National Basketball Association's Western Division leaders over the distance.

Staging another of their whirlwind finishes, the Lakers came from behind Sunday night and trimmed the New York Knicks 108-102 for their 10th straight victory. Los Angeles was behind by 10 points at the half and trailed by 12 in the third period when Elgin Baylor, bothered by a sore right knee and not expected to play at all, came in and sparked a rally.

By the third-quarter mark, the Lakers had cut their deficit to two, then they made it convincing by outscoring the Knicks 35-27 in the last period.

Also in the NBA—Sam Jones triggered the attack as the Boston Celtics overran the Chicago Zephyrs 143-99, the St. Louis Hawks nipped the Cincinnati Royals 105-104 with a fourth quarter uprising, and Syracuse swamped Detroit 148-114, almost reversing exactly the score of their Saturday night game.

St. Louis was down 10 points to the Hawks going into the last period, then a surge paced by Charley Vaughn shot the Hawks into a 99-94 lead. Cincinnati counter-rallied, moving to within one point at 101-100, but the teams played it even the final minute, with John Barnhill putting in the clincher. Vaughn scored 23 points for St. Louis, while Cincinnati ace Oscar Robertson had 31.

In Saturday games, Los Angeles beat San Francisco 119-114, Detroit smothered Syracuse 146-115, St. Louis tripped Cincinnati 115-109 and Chicago trounced New York 136-97.

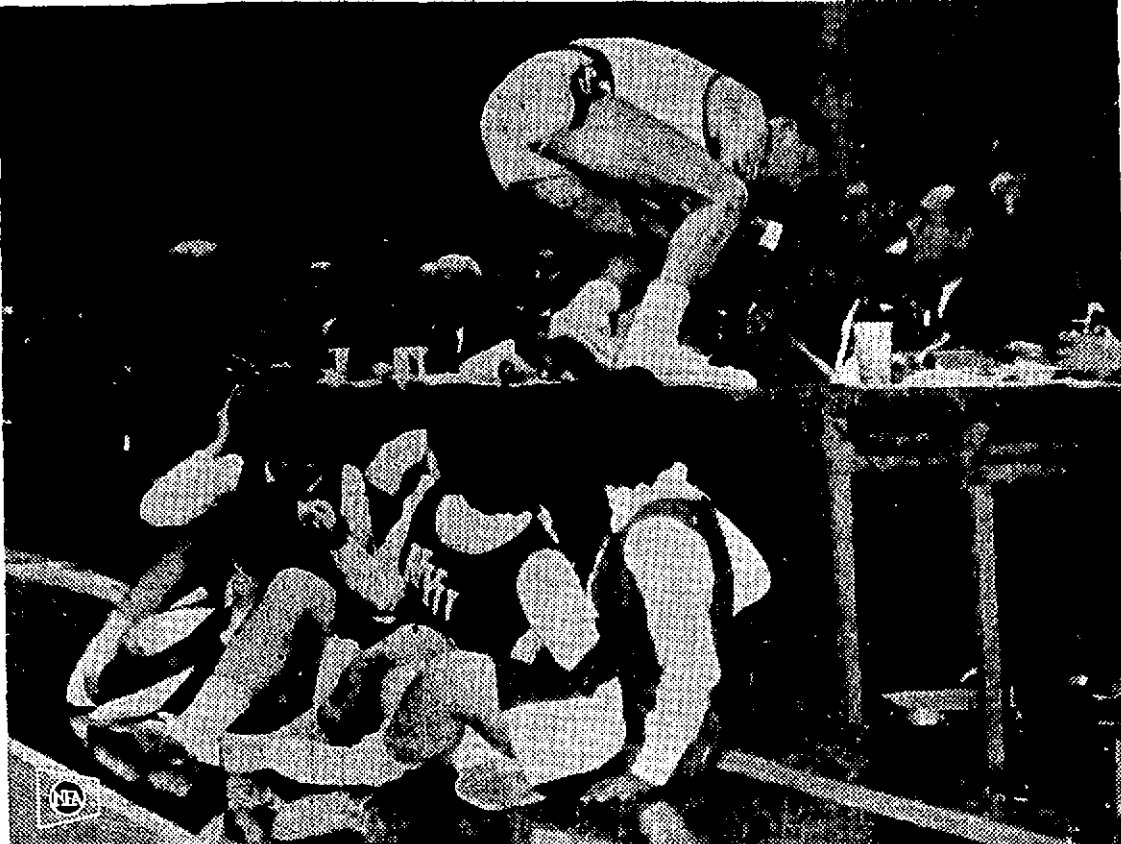

Tonight's only game has New York at San Francisco.

Rice Blasts Porkers at Houston

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks, who lost 95-70 to Rice University at Houston last Saturday night, settled down for a short winter's rest before playing Tulsa next Jan. 31.

Kendall Rhine, the towering star center at Rice, poured in 44 points to set a school scoring record and pace the Owls past Arkansas.

The Porkers have a semester layoff before traveling to Tulsa. The defeat last Saturday put the Razorbacks' record at 2-2 in conference action. Rice also went to 2-2.

Rhine's point total was two better than the previous Owl record. He pumped in 20 field goals, using his 6-9 frame well in gunning over the heads of the shorter Razorbacks.

Larry Phillips of Rice also banged in 3 points. Those performances overshadowed a 22-point night by Jim Wilson, a 6-6 center for Arkansas. For Wilson, of Cherry Valley, it was his best scoring spree as a Porker.

Larry Wofford, one of the Razorback co-captains, netted 19 points, helping make up for a 14-point night for Tommy Boyer, the other co-captain and generally the Arkansas pace-setter.

Though the Owls finished with a 15-point margin, Arkansas trailed by only five with nine minutes to play, 60-55. But Rhine fired in five straight points and Arkansas couldn't get any closer. With six minutes to play, it was 67-57. Phillips and Rhine each got eight points after that and only a nine-point scoring spurt by Wilson kept it from getting worse.

Brown Leads East to Pro Bowl Victory

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Allie Sherman finally has a victory to show over Vince Lombardi, his old New York Giants, even if it took one of Jim Brown's finest days, five fumbles, two dropped touchdowns passes and a field goal by a guy with the shakes.

Sherman, the young scholarly coach of the New York Giants, got his revenge Sunday in the Eastern Conference's 30-20 victory over Lombardi's Western Conference stars in the 13th National Football League Pro Bowl All Star game.

Sherman called it "a great team victory and a well played game under the circumstances." Lombardi, like Sherman a Giant assistant before starting his championship reign at Green Bay, called it a "comedy of errors."

Most of the 61,374 who watched the sloppy, but exciting struggle at the Coliseum under sunny skies and 60-degree temperatures probably would agree the answer was somewhere in the middle.

On the positive side, the East had the brilliant running of Cleveland's Brown, who proved he's just as good as ever by carrying 17 times for a record 141 yards, scoring two touchdowns on a 50-yard gallop and a one-yard power plunge and setting up a third score with a 33-yard burst through three or four would-be tacklers.

There was the clutch 19-yard touchdown pass from Y. A. Tittle to Pres Carpenter that pulled the East into a 20-20 tie early in the fourth quarter after it blew a two-touchdown lead, and the field goal by the victim Lou Michaels that snapped the tie. And there was the tremendous defensive play of Gene "Big Daddy" Lipscomb and Jim Kateavage.

But that side of the East's first victory over the West in four years and Sherman's first over Lombardi in six tries since he became New York coach tended to be lost in the shuffle of fumbles by Abe Woodson of San Francisco that cost two touchdowns, a bobble by Johnny Unitas that led to Michaels' field goal, and sure touchdown passes dropped by Gail Cogdill and Ron Kramer of the West.

"We just handed it to them in the fourth quarter," echoed Unitas, whose passing—including a record 87-yard completion to Cogdill—had rallied the West into the lead on a 17-point third period burst.

The key play came with 6 minutes left, the score tied, and Unitas back to pass. He was hit by Lipscomb and Kateavage, dropped the ball, and Big Daddy plopped his 6-foot-8, 290-pound frame on the football on the West 25.

Zebras Rated Top in State Cage Ranks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pine Bluff's Zebras leaped atop The Associated Press Arkansas high school basketball poll this week, one point above Jonesboro's Hurricane.

The Z's polled 65, Jonesboro with twice as many first place votes—got only 64.

The voting showed Pine Bluff rated two first and five seconds while Jonesboro was gathering four firsts and three thirds.

It was a 15-point drop to Little Rock Hall and third place, but only two points more to Hot Springs in fourth. North Little Rock was fifth with 45.

Fort Smith followed, then Blytheville, Little Rock Central, Harrison and Paragould.

Unless the basketball settles down soon and begins to follow a pattern, the poll could see a new leader every week. In the Big Nine Conference, the major classification, the teams seem to be groping for firm footing on which to play. As it is now, everybody's beating everybody.

play, kicked a 27-yard field goal three plays later.

On the kickoff, Woodson jitterbugged looking for an opening as he headed up field. He ran smack into Cleveland's Galen Fiss, who separated him from the ball with a ferocious tackle. Dallas' Don Bishop picked it up and raced 20 yards for the clinching touchdown.

Texas Emerges Leader in the SW Conference

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Texas Longhorns, an in-and-out basketball team before the Southwest Conference race got underway, reign today as the circuit's undefeated leaders in loop play.

The Longhorns, who lost five games before the SWC grind began, have a 4-0 record in conference action.

Texas A&M's Cadets, tied with Texas a week ago for the conference lead, bring up second place with a 3-1 circuit record. And Baylor, Arkansas, Rice and Southern Methodist are tied with 2-2 marks. Texas Tech is next with a 1-3 record, and Texas Christian is still looking for a victory after four starts.

There is no more conference action until Feb. 2 when all eight teams enter the fray once more. No games will be played this week due to mid-term examinations in Southwest Conference schools, and there is only a smattering of non-conference games on top before the February renewal of loop play.

Results of the poll with first place votes in parentheses and total points, based on 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second, etc., at right:

Grizzlies Lick Harrison

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Fort Smith blew a lead and then rallied to whip Harrison 43-40 in overtime to capture the Arkansas Tech invitational high school basketball championship here Saturday night.

The Grizzlies led by five points midway through the last quarter, but threw the ball away three times. Harrison's Paul Hill and Gordon Starkey put in baskets to pull the Gobblins ahead, 35-34.

A free throw pushed it to 36-34, but the Grizzlies got even on a 12-footer by Tom McKinney with 20 seconds left.

Harrison missed two more chances at points before regulation play ended.

Beebe Slates paced Fort Smith through the overtime and gave the Grizzlies a quick lead, but Harrison kept even until Wayne King and McKinney dropped in free throws to ice it.

In Saturday night games, Texas surged to the front with a 78-58 victory over Texas Tech before a howling crowd in the Red Radiator field house at Lubbock.

While Texas was winning handily, Texas A&M invaded Dallas to play the revitalized Southern Methodist Mustangs and lost a hard one 71-68 after leading by 10 points at the half.

Rice took on the invading Arkansas Razorbacks at Houston and won 85-70 in a complete reversal of form shown at times in the pre-conference games.

Baylor defeated Texas Christian at Fort Worth in a heart-breaker for the Horned Frogs that ended 61-60.

Kendall Rhine, the red-hot 6-9 Rice giant, scored 44 points in leading the Owls over Arkansas and took over scoring honors for both the conference and full-season.

Track Star Gets Neil Martin Award

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gerald Cound, a star track man for Arkansas State Teachers College, was named Sunday the winner of the Neil Martin Trophy, symbolic of the outstanding amateur athlete in Arkansas.

The announcement came from J. W. (Billy) Mitchell, secretary of the Arkansas Association of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Cound won the 880-yard run in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics meet in Sioux Falls, S.D., in early June last year. He ran 1:51.3.

That qualified him for the National AAU meet, where he ran 1:50.3, his best time in the 880 but did not place. It is the best half-mile posted by a representative of an Arkansas institution.

Cound was selected over Kenny Saylor, the Arkansas Tech basketball star, and Frank Pernique, a swimmer for the Little Rock Boys Club.

Cound holds the mile and half-mile records for the AIC. He broke a 35-year-old mile record by running it in 4:24.0, and he broke a 29-year-old half mile mark by running 1:57.0 in 1961. In 1962, he pushed his own half-mile record to 1:53.9.

A native of Grannis, Cound is the recipient of the 23rd Neil Martin Trophy. The last three winners have been University of Arkansas football players.
